

Sector Intelligence: Banking & Financial Services

Discover risks. Seize opportunities

Find out how and where your business risks are most concentrated. And discover the potential for investment opportunities. Our Sector Intelligence offers complete coverage of global banking & financial services markets.

We understand the challenges you face

- Companies in the banking, finance, and insurance sectors are facing a challenging market outlook. Tighter regulations, rising geo-political and country risk, disruptive technology and rising interest rates are shifting strategies.
- Fintech start-ups are driving change and altering the traditional competitive landscape.
- Our solution will help you to formulate the best investment strategy for your business, in a challenging and ever-changing environment.

Never miss a trend, risk or opportunity again

- Our experts have a proven track record in monitoring developments, identifying trends and uncovering the latest business strategies in world banking and financial services markets. We analyze the threats and opportunities and provide insightful competitive intelligence to help you keep ahead of the curve.
- We examine the regulatory environment across the full banking and financial services spectrum, including the central bank, banking regulators and trade associations. Our coverage includes product and financing trends, with forecasts for assets, liabilities, client loans and deposits as well as key banking ratios and historic data on non-performing loans.
- For insurance, our extensive coverage includes breakdowns of market share by company and non-life lines for over 100 countries. Comprehensive data comprises total gross and net premiums, reinsurance premiums, claims, assets and liabilities for life and non-life segments. We provide a detailed market breakdown of the non-life sector for more than 60 countries.
- Our expert analysts provide full political risk analysis and rankings for 200 country markets.
- Our competitive intelligence includes key performance indicators, company news and global company strategy reports for leading banks and insurance companies.
